Garga Hora by Sage Gargacharya

Introduction: In my younger years, accidentally I found this book in the attics. In those days ( I was 13 by then), I was finding it difficult to give predictions as many ideas would clog my mind at the same time. I was happy to find this 'made easy' sort of book which describes the effect of up to seven planets in various houses. Just look at the horoscope and go to the relevant line! I devoured the lines faithfully day in and out and within 4-5 months found that the descriptions do not give a complete picture. At times it runs off tangent. For example a line regarding planets in the 10th house does not speak about profession but tells something else. With due respects to Gargacharya, I should say that the more number of planets, the accuracy of description reduces. Disillusioned with the Garga Hora, I migrated to some other book.

I have a strange habit of reading same books again and again. Next time around when I came back to the same book, I did not take it seriously. But to my surprise, there was an improvement in my predictive abilities! The effects given should not be taken verbatim as the status of the planets and closeness are not considered here. So, my advise is to sit back and read contentiously without straining to remember any specific thing but letting the words and sentences sink into subconscious region slowly.

General combinations - child birth, balarista

Jupiter in his own house along with Saturn and Mercury will bestow long life. Such native often will beget wealth.

Should Venus be in Pisces along with Jupiter and the Moon, the native will acquire kingly fortunes and will have many sons and family.

Should the ascendant be in a malefic sign while the lord thereof occupies the 7th house and Jupiter is posited in the 8th along with the Sun, the child will die at the age of eight.

If Mercury and Mars be together in the ascendant or 6th or 8th, the native will either be a thief or will indulge in awful acts. Such a person will have defect in his hands and legs.

Mercury in the ascendant or 6th or 8th can cause death at the age of 4. Even if the native is dipped in nectar, it will be of no avail.

Mars and Jupiter in exchange in sign will inflict death at the age of 12. Even though Lord Shiva may desire to save the person, it is rare to escape death in such a case.

Should Jupiter occupy a house of Mars identical with 2nd, 6th or 8th from ascendant, this child doubtlessly will face death in its sixth year.

If Rahu occupies the ascendant at birth, while the Moon is in the 6th or 9th, the child will die within 20 days of birth. Similar effects will prevail if Rahu is in the 4th from ascendant, while the Moon occupies one of the angles.

Death will be inflicted by Rahu in the 7th from ascendant, while the Moon is in the ascendant. Even nectar will not be useful to him and the death will come to pass in the 10th year of the child.

If the Sun is in Leo, or in Aries identical with the 6th or the 11th and is aspected by a friendly planet, the evils, if any are simply counteracted. Should Rahu be in the ascendant identical with Aries, Taurus, or Cancer and be in aspect to a benefic planet, no evil exists in the horoscope. Raja Yoga is caused if Saturn and the Moon are in the ascendant while its trines are occupied by the Sun and Jupiter. Mars should be simultaneously in the 10th house.

Should the Sun be in the 9th in Leo, the native will not have a surviving co-born. If one exists, he becomes a king.

If Rahu is in Karma Sthana, identical with own house and in the company of Mars, Mercury and Venus, the native will sometimes prosper and yet sometimes will have downfall.

The subject is born in a mean descent if malefics are in the 2nd, Rahu is in the 3rd and Jupiter is in the 5th.

If the Sun etc. ( other malefics) are in the 4th, 5th and 9th, the native will lose his first issue while the later ones may survive.

Should malefics be in the 2nd along with Mars and Saturn while Rahu is in the 3rd, the co-born will not survive.

evil to his own co-born.

If the Sun is in the 10th in Leo or Saturn in Libra identical with the 6th or the Moon and Mercury in the 9th in Gemini, a Raja Yoga is formed.

Jupiter in ascendant while Venus is in the 12th holding the other planets in between indicates Raja Yoga, would be an advantage of the native's family to become strong (in all respects).

The native doubtlessly becomes a king if Jupiter is in the 8th and Venus is in the 3rd. All others should be between them.

One born in Libra ascendant with exalted Saturn while Jupiter is in Taurus, the Moon in Gemini, Mars in Capricorn, Venus in Leo and Mercury in Virgo along with the Sun, will have Raja Yoga; he will maintain justice, good deeds and auspiciousness in his life. He will however cause Balarishta in the 8th or the 12th year. The native will however, later on prove inauspicious for the elder brother or sister.

If Libra happens to be the 2nd house or an angle and is occupied by a malefic, the native only faces sheer poverty. He will not prove a good augury for his own people.

Should the Moon be in the 10th while Venus is in the 7th and malefics in the 4th, the native's dynasty ends with him and there will be no further descent in his race.

The mother of the native will not survive if Saturn is in the 2nd, Rahu in the 3rd and Jupiter is in Pisces.

Should Mars be in the 7th while Venus is in the 8th followed by the Sun in the 9th, the native will be short lived.

If Jupiter is in the ascendant while Mars is not in the 7th and Venus is not in the 8th and the Sun is not in the 9th an auspicious Yoga is caused. Such a native will live a long lease of life, will have many co-borns, will head many people, will be happy, will lead himself and his co-born to a prosperous level, be free from proud conduct and be pleased in all aspects of life.

If Saturn is in Cancer, while Rahu is in Taurus, the native will be very liberal, will enjoy numerous Yogas, i.e. will reach a very high state in life, will be famous, will be chief in his race and will marry many women. If however, the said Saturn is lonely and aspects the 5th, there is only one marriage.

The native will meet with his end if Jupiter and Rahu are together in the ascendant or the 4th. The end will be in the 13th year even if Lord Siva may try to save him.

If Mars occupies the 8th, while the Sun is in fall in the 5th or the 9th and Jupiter must be in accelerated motion. The native is blessed by Lakshmi, the Goddess of Wealth.

Should Venus be in Pisces along with Mercury while the ascendant, 2nd and 3rd are respectively, tenanted by the Sun, Moon and Mars, a Raja Yoga is constituted. One born under this kind of planetary array will respect Gods and preceptors. He will achieve such fame in his own native country and abroad as well, that cannot be achieved by others.

If the 12th is occupied by Jupiter while the 2nd house has Saturn, Sun, Mars and Mercury, the father of the native will pass away at the time of marriage of the native.

If Jupiter is in the 3rd while the planet Venus is in the 11th the native will be famous among his relatives and will shine like a lamp among the men of his race.

If Venus in the ascendant is unaspected by anyone, while the Moon is in the 2nd and Jupiter is in the 3rd, the native cannot enjoy any paternal earnings.

Should Mars and Saturn be in Leo while Venus is in Virgo and Rahu is in Gemini, the child will lose its mother early.

Should Mars and Saturn be in Leo while Venus is in Virgo and Rahu is in Gemini, this will cause poverty in childhood and happiness in the later part if the Moon join Mars.

If ascendant happens to be a malefic sign and is occupied by the said malefic ascendant Lord himself, while one among the 4th, 7th and the 10th being a malefic sign is occupied by its own malefic lord, the child will live only up to six. He will prove inauspicious to its mother. Additionally, there will be destruction of maternal relatives if the 6th house is unaspected by Jupiter.

The child, who has the Sun in Leo, a malefic in Virgo and Rahu in a malefics house will only live for six years.

The longevity is only for 19 years, if the Moon is in the 8th, malefics in angles and Rahu in the 10th at birth.

If a benefic planet is exalted in an angle, the native will acquire a large kingdom and will protect his family.

Death of the father is imminent, if a child is born with Rahu in the ascendant and the Sun in the 7th, while Mars is between ascendant and the 7th.

A child, who has malefics posited in the 7th, 12th, 3rd and 8th, will always have an ailing physique.
